VOLUME CVI.---NO 161. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, JULY 10, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

When life's autumn comes, women, worn out by the burdens of motherhood, yet shrink from that second "change of life" which will banish these burdens forever. They fear a change in form, in feature, in personal attractiveness. Such fears are largely warranted by the effects which this change produces in many women. But no woman need let these fears fret her.

Those who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription do not suffer from the change of life either in face, form or feelings as do other women. This fact is due to the intimate connection of the general health with the health of the organs peculiarly feminine. By preserving the health of these organs, and relieving the system from the debilitating drains, ulcers and inflammations which sap its health, "Favorite Prescription" paves the way for this natural change to come in Nature's way, without the loss of capacity to please others or personal inability to enjoy life.

"Your 'Favorite Prescription' brought me safely through that difficult period, called 'change of life,'" writes Mrs. Mary Ensminger, of 344 E. Ankeny St., Portland, Oregon. "This change made a very unpleasant disturbance through my entire system. I had hot and cold flashes, sick headaches, became excited, flustrated, nervous and irritable. My appetite was fitful and for days I was unable to eat a fair meal. My aunt recommended me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it made a great change for the better. Within two weeks the unpleasant feelings had disappeared. I have a husband and eight children so have the care of a large family but was able to attend to my household duties without any difficulty and passed the period without any more trouble. I can recommend your 'Favorite Prescription' as a grand medicine for women."

You may be willing that somebody else shall say that their baby is "just as good" as yours, but you don't want that baby substituted for yours. Let dealers say what they like about other medicines being "just as good" but don't let them substitute anything for "Favorite Prescription." It is absolutely unequaled.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WEAK HEARTS

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

A MURDER MYSTERY.

With the back of the head crushed in, mutilated from head to foot, and several bones broken, the body of a woman, known only as "Annie," was found yesterday buried in the cellar of a house in the northeastern part of Philadelphia, formerly the home of Charles Bluhm, a German, who died in a hospital on May 18. The police believe that Bluhm murdered the woman, who was his housekeeper, and buried the body in the cellar to hide the crime. A hole had been dug in the middle of the cellar and a quantity of quicklime thrown in. The body was then placed in the hole and covered with earth.

Bluhm's wife left him about four years ago because of his violent temper, especially when he had been drinking. They had been married twenty years and had four children. Two years ago Bluhm bought a two-story house and installed "Annie" as his housekeeper. Both of them drank to excess at times, and they frequently quarreled.

Last December the woman disappeared. Neighbors asked Bluhm what had become of her, and he replied that she had gone away. He lived in the house alone. He was taken ill with consumption, and as he was about to be removed to a hospital, he told the neighbor: "If you hear of me dying, then go into the house, but not before."

Bluhm's wife called upon him in the hospital, at which he became enraged. He forbade her going into his house. He died without any suspicion resting on him as to the disappearance of the housekeeper.

When Bluhm's will was opened it was found that he left the little house to his wife. She and her mother decided to live in it, and they began to prepare it for occupation, as it was in a filthy condition. The two women detected an odor in the house, but did not pay much attention to it until yesterday when they decided to get rid of it. In the cellar they found a small mound of earth, and believing that the husband had buried a dog or cat there, they began to dig up the earth. Under the top layer was a piece of carpet, and under that they found the corpse.

The women notified the police of the discovery. After an investigation the police came to the conclusion that Bluhm killed the woman during a quarrel, and in his frenzy to hide the crime hacked the body with a hatchet and buried it. The quicklime had consumed only a small portion of the body.

The identity of the victim is not known. So far as the neighbors know, she worked in the mills in that section of the city. She was about forty years of age and Bluhm forty-five.

Whites and Blacks Clash.

Two persons were shot, one probably fatally, in a fight between mobs of whites and negroes in west Sixteenth street, New York, yesterday. The trouble began when Henry Hart, a colored man, was attacked in the street by a number of white youths, who accused him of interferring with a game. Hart fled, pursued by a mob of whites hurling stones, bricks, and other missiles, and reached the tenement house in which he lived, and got a revolver, while the pursuers made efforts to break into the building. Having armed himself, Hart ran downstairs and began firing into the crowd, one of his shots striking James Hunter in the side. At this moment Policeman John Loyve ran into the hall and arrested Hart after the latter had fired at him twice. As Loye brought his prisoner out a swarm of negroes, armed with pistols, clubs, razors, and other weapons, poured out of the tenement, bent on a rescue. The policeman's helmet was smashed, and he was knocked down and kicked, but he kept a firm grip on his prisoner, and finally succeeded in getting his back against a wall where he stood off his assailants. By this time the whites had been reenforced to the number of several hundred, and the negroes broke and fled in every direction. A shot fired from a negro tenement struck Mrs. Mary Donohue, who was attempting to lead a child out of the tenement, in the head, inflicting a probably fatal wound. The police broke into the house and arrested Albert Middleton, who is supposed to have fired the shot, and five other negroes. In spite of the presence of a large body of police reserves, desultory fighting between whites and blacks continued until a sudden downpour of rain scattered the combatants.

Sickening Shivering Fits

of Ague and Malaria, can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine; of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to Quinine, having none of this drug's bad after-effects. E. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Tex., writes. "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons drug store; price 50c. guaranteed.

Diseases in Food.

There seems to be no end to the scares raised in London about poisonous matter of some sort or other lurking in delicacies of the table.

Last year it was the oyster which was condemned by reason of numerous foul beds upon which they were kept.

Now even a more necessary article of diet has been condemned for something worse than the trouble for which the oyster was driven from the dinner table.

Thirty per cent. of the poultry reared in England and subsequently served up at table, have suffered from some form or other of tuberculosis. This is the startling statement made by a poultry expert when asked his opinion regarding the report that the Royal Commission now considering the whole subject of tuberculosis was about to consider the question of tuberculosis in poultry.

It is not a new suggestion by any means. It has been dwelt upon before at meetings of the medical faculty, but it is only now that a commission is about to take the matter into serious consideration that public feeling has been awakened to what may have been the cause of many cases of consumption.

The authority quoted above offers the comforting information to lovers of poultry that such diseases as roup, wet roup, swelled head, dropsy of the wattles, gapes, liver disease and pip, all of which are the bane of the poultry farmer, are merely different forms of tuberculosis, and "there are districts in England," says an official of the National Poultry Organization society, "where it is impossible to carry on poultry farming, owing to the presence of the germs of tuberculosis in the soil. I have frequently seen in the best poultry stores and in restaurant windows skinny birds which to the expert eye obviously have had tuberculosis.

"Personally I consider there is great danger to the public health in thousands of yards where poultry is reared under the most filthy conditions, and birds from most of these find their way to the London market."

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent. of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. This being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, JULY 10, 1905.

THE RICHMOND newspapers seldom have anything encouraging to say of Senator Martin, so the following from the Journal of that city is significant:

Thursday's debate at King George Courthouse probably marks a turning point in the senatorial campaign. Certainly, it was the most eventful day of the year in Virginia politics. Until noon Thursday it was the opinion of political observers that Senator Martin and Governor Montague would not meet in joint debate. Governor Montague's friends, who have ever had the utmost confidence in his ability as a debater, voiced a widespread belief that Senator Martin feared to meet the Governor on the stump. But the two candidates met. They locked horns. Both displayed marked ability. Today Senator Martin's friends are jubilantly claiming to have gained the advantage.

The editor of the News-Leader was present at the debate and printed the following sketch of Senator Martin as a debater:

Probably the most important and interesting result of oratorical combat was the proof Senator Martin gave of ability to take care of himself against any opponent in the rough and tumble work of public stump debate. Some of his closest friends and admirers say they have known all the while that he was capable of making a good showing in such a contest. Everybody else, however, believed that he was a poor and indifferent speaker, and would be awkward, slow and at a great disadvantage with a campaigner of Governor Montague's skill and gifts. He showed himself, however, to be a stump speaker of force and fluency. He rarely hesitated for a word and evidently knew always exactly what he wanted to say and how to say it effectively. He has a quick and agile mind evidently, sees instantly every opening in an adversary's line of reasoning or statements and takes advantage of it instantly, while guarding and defending himself skilfully. He falls easy into vernacular and at the right times to make his point strongly. Newspaper men are accustomed to consider such contests disppassionately and judicially. The unanimous verdict of those present gave Senator Martin would be called a "decision on points" what if it was a prize fight. They thought he handled himself better and faster, parried and hit back more clearly and strongly.

A COTEMPORARY says that the Puritan Sabbath is gone, and no wise person will wish for its return; but the reaction has gone too far and if the present tendency remains unchecked there will be a return to the customs and license which obtained in English society in the middle of the eighteenth century. That the above observation is correct is self-evident to all who are watching the signs of the times. Sunday is no longer looked upon by the great majority as a day for healthful rest for body and soul, but as a day of revelry and often riot. The Sunday excursion has made an enormous inroad into the manners and customs of the twentieth century, and debauchery and often more serious incidents mark the first day of the week, which half a century ago was observed, in a measure, at least, as it was intended it should be. The disposition to read anything helpful or of a sober trend is gradually giving way to the Sunday newspaper with its comic supplements, and the taste for more wholesome literature is waning continually. The printing press, while a great blessing is more of a bane to myriads, and the fact that solid reading is being totally ignored and an appetite for the flimsy acquired is sad to contemplate. A man who spends his Sunday in debauchery or riot is in no condition to resume work on Monday, while he who takes his natural rest and incidentally improves his mind by reading books which have exercised a benign influence upon the race, will be refreshed in both body and soul when he resumes his work.

THE VERY considerable success achieved in Philadelphia of recent years by attractive young women hired to sell tickets for charity entertainments is doubtless responsible for the employment of such persons in the collection of bills from people who are slow pay. It is said that however great the slow payer's experience may be in standing off the masculine collector, he generally succumbs to the attractive young woman—at least, until he becomes used to her.

PRESIDENT CHARLES V. FORNES of the New York Board of Aldermen, on his return from a study of municipal ownership in Great Britain, expresses doubts as to its practicability for this country. Many wise men have entertained that doubt since the question was aggitated and did not have to go to Europe to be convinced of the futility of such ownership.

A Leishmann, United States Minister to Turkey, has succeeded in securing from the Sultan recognition of the claim of the American Bible Society, that it should be allowed to peddle Bibles throughout Turkey. From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

The spectacle of a subordinate employee of the government, through the manipulation of his official position, gathering in thousands of dollars aside from his salary, is that presented by the case of Edwin S. Holmes, jr., the deposed associate statistician of the Department of Agriculture. District Attorney Beach, of the District of Columbia, has issued a statement to some extent counteracting Secretary Wilson's assertion in his report on the Holmes scandal that Mr. Beach had said no criminal action would lie against Holmes. Mr. Beach says that upon the information presented to him last Friday by Mr. Wilson, he informed the secretary a prosecution would not lie, but as to the manner of the investigation and on the broader question of a possible criminal conspiracy, he was not consulted. Lawyers in Washington are taking a deep professional interest in the Holmes case. They say that provided the facts alleged in the report of the secret service agents can be established, several actions are possible. Secretary Richard Cheatham, of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, is now on his way to Atlanta, where it is believed he will take further steps in pushing the investigation. He has declared several times that it was impossible for one man to engineer the leaks and manipulations without others in the bureau of statistics having either guilty knowledge or participating in the crookedness. He believes that if the evil is to be eradicated there should be a thorough clean up at the present moment.

There is a feeling of resentment at the office of the Comptroller of the Currency over the criticism in the middle west of the alleged incompetency of the bank examiners in not discovering the excessive loans made by Illinois and Kansas banks to C. J. Devlin, the magnate whose recent financial embarrasment has caused great distress to a number of banking houses and industrial institutions. "There is no authority in this office to prevent such excessive loans," said Deputy Comptroller Kane this morning. "The law prohibits the issuance of loans to an individual or firm in excess of their per cent. of the capital stock. Corporations are favored. Each can borrow to the 10 per cent. limit, although headed by the same individual as in the Devlin case. It is bad banking, but entirely within the law. This office had been fully informed of the Devlin loans. In this case as in others where a long line of loans to practically one individual exists the attention of the banking firm was called to the matter. We sent several letters to one of the Illinois banks just closed by the Devlin failure. The bank examiner reported the excessive loan at once. The next statement of the bank showed that the recommendation of the comptroller had been adopted. They had wiped out excessive loans. Other banks heavily carrying Devlin paper were advised by this office that they were on the danger line, but they did not reduce the loans. The comptroller had done all that he could to correct the abuse."

Secretary Wilson said today that he had no retraction to make in the case of Theodore H. Price, the New York cotton broker, who was mentioned in the report on the cotton report scandal. He said: "On Holmes's testimony and the letters which he admitted writing, I discharged him. This was the only official action I took. The rest of the report of the secret service agents I gave to the public, and any reference to Mr. Price therein I will neither withdraw nor comment upon." The matter is now out of the Secretary's hands, according to his idea, and any further investigation will be done by the Department of Justice should prosecutions be determined upon by officers of the latter department. Mr. Price has threatened to bring suit against the Secretary unless a retraction was made, but there is no chance of that now

There will be no termination of the inquiry into the purchase of the Lanston machines in the government printing office by the sale of the Lanston stock to the Mergenthaler people. "There has not been, nor is there now any movement," said P. T. Dodge, president of the Mergenthaler company, as he left the printery for lunch, "on the part of our people to buy the Lanston stock." Attorneys for the Lanston company are equally positive about continuing the fight. Foreman L. C. Hay, who claims he has kept an accurate account of the cost and of the amount of work done by the machines, was before the investigating commission nearly all the forenoon sessions.

Announcement was made at the offices of the Panama Canal Commission in this city today that the commission will issue a circular in the immediate future inviting proposals for furnishing unskilled labor necessary for the construction of the canal. While the commission expects to reduce the amount of this sort of labor to a minimum by the introduction of modern machinery, it will still be necessary to secure about 6,000 more laborers or workmen, 14,000 having already been engaged. The general conditions of the proposals will be for 2,000 each of Japanese, Chinese, and Italian laborers to be delivered on the Isthmus on or before December 1st., 1905.

On account of the new regulations for compiling crop reports, put into effect as the result of the recent investigation at the Department of Agriculture, the monthly report on general crops, which was to have been issued today, has been postponed until tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Chief Statistician Hyde will compute the final figures, the preliminary tables being prepared by clerks under him. Everything will be done under the watchful eye of Secretary Wilson and not until four o'clock will the doors be thrown open.

RUSSIAN AFFAIRS.

A Japanese expedition of ten transports, convoyed by two battleships, seven cruisers and torpedo boats, appeared off the Saghalin coast, near Korsakovsk, Saturday and landed men; the Russian garrison fled from Korsakovsk after destroying coast guns and burning public buildings. Sakhalin is the first territory actually forming part of the Russian Empire which has been occupied by the Japanese since the war in the far East began. The island, geographically, is part of the Japanese group. For other reasons the Japanese regard it as legitimately theirs. Japanese occupation of the Russian Island Sakhalin destroys hopes of some of the Russian peace advocates who have been suggesting that its voluntary cession might be an offset with Port Arthur and the Chinese Railroad against payment of a heavy money indemnity.

The Russian Admiral Kruger took possession of the battleship Kniaz Potemkin, surrendered by the mutineers to the Roumanian authorities Saturday. The torpedo boat which accompanied the Kniaz Potemkin to Kustenji, Roumania, left for Odessa without surrender.

Circusmen and Excursionists Fight.

Telephone messages received in Wheeling, W. Va., yesterday morning from Burnsville, Braxton county, W. Va., and Clarksburg, W. Va., tell of a terrific battle that occurred Sunday afternoon near Burnsville between cowboys belonging to Texas Jack's Wild West Show and excursionists on a Baltimore and Ohio excursion train en route from Clarksburg to Richwood. Two attaches of the circus were killed. Six excursionists were wounded, most of them Clarksburg people. Several are said to be seriously injured and there is great excitement in Clarksburg. Texas Jack's Wild West Show train was sidetracked near Burnsville, and at that point one of the cowboys boarded the excursion train when it arrived en route to Richwood. The fellow was drunk and made trouble on the train. He was ejected, but managed to get word to his comrades, who, upon the arrival of the excursion train at the sidetrack, surrounded the train and opened a fusilade, concentrating their fire upon the two last cars, where the trouble had occurred. Several of the excursionists were hit by the flying bullets and severely wounded. Excursionists who were armed opened fire upon the cowboys. The battle lasted for some time, but finally the cowboys were driven off and two were captured and have been taken to the Braxton county jail at Sutton.

As the train was pulling into the statian at Danville he again jumped from the car platform. This time he succeeded in making his escape, but was captured later.

The Terry building is seven stories high, and it was only by heroic work of the firemen that this structure was saved. The Terry building is supplied with sheetiron window shutters, but these were all wide open, leaving the woodwork in the windows exposed to the flames. Many of these window facings took fire.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Japanese Invasion.

Tokio, July 10.—According to information which has been received today the Japanese who invaded the islands of Saghalin occupied Korsakovsk, a town near the southeastern extremity of the island, on Saturday.

London, July 10.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain, has received a report from his government in regard to the island of Saghalin by the Japanese troops, which says: "Early in the morning of July 7, our landing party occupied Korsakovsk without resistance. The Russians burned the town of Korsakovsk and retired to a position near Soloivka, about seven miles north of Korvavosk where they again attempted to resist but were dislodged by our pursuing force. They retired about twenty-two miles north of Korsakovsk. During the engagement we captured four guns and a quantity of ammunition. There was no loss on our side."

St. Petersburg, July 10.—The occupation of Solovia, Sakhalien, by the Japanese is confirmed in despatches received today from General Linivitch.

Washington, July 10.—Saghalin is the first Russian territory over which the Japanese flag has been raised since the beginning of the war. From this standpoint the occupation of the island is of political importance. There is no doubt of Japanese intention to keep the island but whether its possession will cause her to moderate her demands for a money indemnity cannot be predicted, The opinion here is that it will not have any such effect because the cession of Saghalin has been one of the demands of the Japanese from the first. The island lies immediately to the north of Japan and geographically is a part of the Japanese group. Russia took it from Japan against her will about 30 years ago. Its area is about 29,000 miles and it is rich in coal and other minerals. Around its coasts are some of the finest fishing grounds in the world and it is these that give its chief value to the Japanese at the present time.

Aeronaut's Brave Act.

Lynn, Mass., July 10.—With a straight drop of 1,000 feet to what seemed certain death, William Canfield, a Boston aeronaut, leaped from his balloon over Lynn Common Saturday night in order to save Mrs. Camille Stafford, a woman aeronaut who ascended with him. She escaped unhurt. He was badly injured by striking the side of a house as his parachute swung in the strong wind. Five thousand persons witnessed his startling descent. At the time he leaped the balloon was over the most thickly populated part of Lynn. It was leaking badly and the aeronauts' combined weight was a drag. Canfield saw that the only way to save the woman was for him to cut loose in his parachute. The woman remained with the balloon until it passed over the meadows a mile away. The ascension was one that had been postponed from July 4.

Python Makes Feast.

Atlantic City, July 10.—A young python, ten feet in length, caused great excitement in the store of Henry Fox, bird fancier, on Atlantic avenue, yesterday afternoon, when it escaped from its cage and started to enjoy a rare dinner on imported canaries, a few rabbits, a squirrel and a Boston bull pup. It made its escape when no one was in the store, and persons passing by were attracted by the noise of a great commotion among the survivors of the attack. The snake was observed through the windows leisurely enjoying its third canary. An employee of the store arrived, and with a bag chased the reptile about the place until he got its head covered. The man forced the snake back into the cage, after a struggle, and the crowd outside cheered.

Killed at a Fire.

New York, July 10.—One man was killed and a number of others had narrow escapes from death in a fire which gutted the double house No. 237-239 east Fourth street today. The victim is Arthur Neely, brother of F. Tennyson Neely, the publisher. He leaped from a fourth story window just as a fireman on a scaling ladder had almost reached him, grazing a mattress which had been held for him by his brother and another man from the first floor window, of an adjoining house, and dashed out his brains on the pavement below. While this was going on in front of the house, John Frazier, an inventor, who lived on the fourth floor rear with his wife, finding escape cut off by the stairway, made a rope of sheets from his bed, tied the improvised rope about his wife's body and began to lower her. The rope was too short but 35 men who were in the Phi Delta Club, next door, were busy trying to aid the firemen. Some of them were on an extension in the rear of the club. Frazier swung his wife so that her body went over to the extension. It was caught by the club men, and she was saved. Frazier then started down the rope and swung his body so that it would go over to the extension. The rope broke, however, and he fell to the yard below. He escaped with a few injuries. The others in the building, which was conducted as a boarding house by Mrs. Hattie McCoy, were taken down to safety by firemen.

Kniaz Potemkin's Crew.

Kustedji, July 10.—The crew of the Kniaz Potemkin, who surrendered to the authorities here on Saturday, are quietly dispersing throughout Roumania. They do not display any hostility toward the Russian government. They declare that they love the Czar and were led astray by revolutionists. The sailors are doing everything they can to palliate their offense. They say they fired only two shots at Odessa, and none at Theodosia, and never took coal or provisions from any foreign vessel. They insist that the men had agreed not to attack any foreign port under any circumstances. The usual routine was observed aboard the Potemkin, the former mutineers say, and they deny that they killed the doctor on the vessel, saying he committed suicide. Matuschenko, who was the leader of the mutineers, when asked if he was glad to escape replied: "What does it matter to me whether I am free or not? I want Russia to be free. What I did was for the good of my country. I intend to remain here and learn the Roumanian language." Members of the revolutionary committee say the revolt had been mediated for a long time, but was brought on prematurely by the bad food incident which led to to the killing of a sailor.

Pope Suffering from Heat.

Rome, July 10.—Pope Pius X. suffers acutely from the torrid heat which has prevailed at Rome. Dr. Lapponi, the Pope's physician, has advised him to quit the oppressive Vatican for the cool papal villa of Castle Gandolpho, which is located on the slope of Mount Albrno and looks out over Lake Albano. Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal Secretary of State, is preparing to start for the villa and Dr. Lapponi wishes the Pope to accompany him. In conversing with a prominent diplomat today, the Pope lamented the hindrances which are placed in the way of his leaving the Vatican, most important of which are opposition of the Sacred College and attitude of certain foreign governments.

The Hot Wave.

Boston, July 10.—The hot wave which struck Boston on Sunday and continued through the day claimed another victim this morning when John G. Fogarty was found dead on the roof of his house where he had gone to escape the trifling atmosphere. Up to noon a number of prostrations had been reported at the hospitals. At noon the mercury stood at 95° in front of the Publishers' Press office, on Washington street.

Wants to Smash Records

Los Angeles, Cala., July 10.—Mad to beat the wind and vowing he will smash all records ever set in this country for fast going, Walter Scott, "Bonanza King," started out from here yesterday on a whirlwind trip to Chicago to satisfy a most acutely developed case of speed mania. Scott is paying the Santa Fe Railroad $5,500 to surpass all speed records between Los Angeles and Chicago, and chop down the time for his special train to forty-eight hours. If the Santa Fe cannot satisfy his longing for fast traveling Scott declares he will charter a special train from Chicago to New York, and beat the 18 hour service between those cities.

Several American firms bid for these contracts but the German works underbid them and captured the awards.

Experiments are being made on the State railways in Prussia with German locomotives of high speed. The new engines are designed to maintain an average speed of 75 miles an hour on long hauls.

Place of Peace Negotiations

Washington, July 10.—It is officially announced that Portsmouth, N. H, will be the scene of the peace negotiations between Russia and Japan, after their removal from Washington. The sessions of the plenipotentiaries will be held in the large equipment building at the navy yard in that city, the representatives of both countries having agreed to this plan. The building in the Portsmouth yard was offered to the peace plenipotentiaries by the United States government as a place for their meeting and after an examination was agreed to by them as a suitable place for their conferences. It was deemed desirable by them that their meetings should take place upon a reservation of the government and the proposition of Portsmouth was entirely satisfactory to them. Assistant Secretary of State Peirce will shortly go to Portsmouth and will make such arrangements regarding the furnishing of the rooms as is necessary. The plenipotentiaries will lodge at the hotels in the town of Portsmouth at the expense of the United States government. The precise date of the first meeting of the peace negotiators is dependent upon the arrival in this country of the Japanese representatives. They are already on their way and there is little doubt that they and their Russian colleagues in this meeting will be here in time to meet each other on the date suggested by the President, August 1st. It appears now that they will not have any preliminary meeting in Washington. According to the present arrangements they will first call upon the President at Oyster Bay. The representatives of Russia and Japan will then be formally introduced to each other by the President who will entertain them at a luncheon or dinner. The dispatch boats Dolphin and Mayflower will be in attendance and at the conclusion of the ceremonies at Oyster Bay these vessels will be placed at the disposal of the plenipotentiaries and will convey them from Oyster Bay to Portsmouth. A United States cruiser will convoy them.

Attempted Suicide.

Paterson, N. J, July 10.—Made insane by the refusal of the woman he loved to marry him, Hyman Meantz, tried to commit suicide last evening, with poison and illuminating gas. He was prevented from so doing by the police, who had been summoned by the young woman, Miss Belle Rosenberg, of 45 Bridge street.

Lawson Mute.

Kansas City, Mo., July 10.—Thomas W. Lawson is in Kansas City voiceless. He is temporarily mute because of the strain put upon his vocal organs by his recent speeches. There is a possibility that Lawson will have to abandon a part or all of his speaking dates on account of his disability, yet Lawson and his friends do not believe such a necessity will arise.

Fooled the Mob.

Gretna, La., July 10.—To save Spencer Roy, a negro, from lynching, Judge Gaudet on Saturday instructed Sheriff Marrero to see that Roy was released and taken out of the parish. The negro had been charged with attempted criminal assault upon Miss Irene Bourlet, 18 years old, but when the testimony was heard the charge was not established. The evidence showed, however, that he had grossly insulted the young woman, and the neighborhood was so enraged that his life was in danger.

A Terrible Revenge.

The revenge a beautiful young woman wreaked upon her betrayer—a revenge which ultimately ended in her own death, as well as his—has filled all Spain with horror, so gruesome, weird and unusal was it.

In its conception and execution the tragedy stands unparalleled. There arrived in Seville a few days ago a traveling circus, in which was employed as dampteuse, or lion tamer, Donna Felicia, a young woman of rare beauty and great courage. She was mistress of a cage of panthers of extraordinary ferocity and her act attracted endless attention.

One night there appearred among the spectators a young man named Don Juan D'Almeira, who, while watching the senitoria's daring feat, recognized in the dampteuse a sweetheart of long ago. He had abandoned her, but now he was again drawn to her by memories of the past, and after the performance he called upon her in her dressing room.

Dona Felicia's heart was filled with a desire for revenge. The man had hardly left before the woman skillfully dressed a dummy to resemble him, and then, with infinite pains, trained and coaxed two ferocious panthers to spring upon the figure. When the beasts had learned their lesson well, she petted them and waited.

On the day appointed Don Juan entered her dressing room. He had just seated himself upon a sofa when Dona Felicia suddenly threw open a door communicating with the panther's cage, and the beasts bounded upon the man, and in another moment were tearing him limb from limb. So horrible was the sight that the woman repented her act and sprang between the panthers and her old lover. But the infuriated animals had tasted blood and, turning from the dying Don Juan, they struck her down and tore her to pieces also.

Still Alive.

A dispatch from Paris says at 9 o'clock yesterday morning six survivors of the submarine boat Farfadet, which sank at Sidi Abdallah, Tunis, last Thursday, signaled that they were experiencing difficulty in breathing. At 10:30 they signaled that they could last only a quarter of an hour longer. The boat was lifted until her after hatchway was about the surface of the water and the air was renewed in the after compartment through a small port hole. It was also possible to talk with the six men. When the hatch had been got about a yard out of the water the crane broke. A second attempt failled to raise the boat.

The Electric Railway.

The electric railway officials are making arrangements to greatly improve the service between this city and Washington, and are now preparing a schedule that calls for trains from each end about every fifteen minutes, and during the rush hours of the day they are even closer together. This schedule, it is stated, will be put in service next Sunday, and work will be pushed on the double track across Four Mile run, in order to have it ready for service by that time, as the new schedule is arranged for double-track service and does not allow for waits for trains to pass each other. The equipment of the road is also to be improved by the addition of two new motor cars, which are expected to arrive before the 1st of August. The new motors will be of the same pattern recently purchased by the Mt. Vernon road and will be up-to-date cars. In addition to this several of the old motor cars have been thoroughly overhauled and equipped with powerful electric motors, so that the rolling stock of the road is in condition to give efficient service and to successfully maintain the new and much-improved schedule. As fast as possible all of the old cars now in service are to be retired for a time to be practically rebuilt, so that when they are again put in service they will be as good as new cars.

Visiting Rechabites.

A delegation of Rechabites from Washington will visit this city tonight for the purpose of pushing forward the temperance cause. Odd Fellows' Hall, on Columbus street, has been secured, and the visit will be made in response to the petition of twenty-eight ladies and gentlemen of this city, who desire a branch of the order here. The pastors in some of the churches yesterday urged temperance workers to aid in the movement. At the close of the civil war Virginia Tent of Rechabites was one of Alexandria's flourishing orders. In addition to this organization Mount Vernon and Harmony divisions of Sons of Temperance had large numbers of gentlemen and ladies on their rolls. These institutions gradually lapsed and were followed by the Good Templars, who also ceased eventually to attract interest, and were superseded by other orders. The Rechabites have existed in this country for over three-score years. The ritual is interesting and impressive, and those who are endeavoring to resuscitate the order here believe it will again prove popular.

Fined Fifty Dollars.

Officer Beach yesterday took Christopher Devitt in custody on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday and without a license. He was brought before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning and fined $50. Being unable to pay the fine Devitt was sent to jail for sixty days. Devitt, it seems, was the agent for some saloonkeeper in the southern part of the city, but it was impossible to induce him to name the place where he procured the liquor he dispensed. There are a number of such individuals who, it is believed, act as scouts for certain saloons by standing near the same on Sundays and piloting customers. They also, it is alleged, furnish such with liquor. These attaches also play their parts when a policeman is descried in the distance. The officers are endeavoring to apprehend the principals in the Sunday liquor traffic.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A white man, arrested by Officer Patterson charged with being drunk, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Samuel Gant, arrested by Officer Arrington charged with assaulting Fannie Gant, was dismissed, the charge having been withdrawn.

Christopher Devitt, arrested by Officer Beach charged with selling liquor on Sunday and without a license, was fined $50 and in default of payment sent to jail for 60 days.

The Hot Wave.

Yesterday was another torrid Sunday, and in the afternoon the piercing rays of the sun kept many people indoors. The mercury hovered about the 90° mark, and at half-past nine o'clock last night had fallen but 8°. The hot weather, as usual, materially reduced the congregations at the various churches, in most of which the services were abbreviated. After midnight a refreshing breeze set in from the south, and early this morning conditions were pleasant. According to reports sent out by the Weather Bureau, every indication points to continued high temperature for this vicinity during the next three or four days.

Sewer Pipe in Eastern Branch.

The sloop Tony is now employed in the work of laying the big sewer pipes in the bed of the Eastern Branch, deep down in the mud, so that they will not be disturbed by any future dredging operations in that waterway. Two lines of the big six-foot pipes are to be laid before she returns to her home port in New England. The excavations for the new sewer through the country on the southern side of the branch are being pushed rapidly ahead toward the proposed outlet near the United States naval magazine above this city on the other side of the river.

Preparing for Encampment.

Arrangements are being made for the encampment at Basic City, August 15, to August 21, of the Seventieth Virginia Regiment, composed of companies from Richmond, Fredericksburg, Danville, Farmville, Alexandria, Charlottesville, Staunton and Lynchburg. The manoeuvres will be those ordinarily conducted at encampments. Every military company in the State is to go into camp for six days during August.

The employees at the Washington navy yard did not walk out Saturday at noon. It is believed that an order will be issued eventually giving them a half-day holiday on Saturdays, but they continued at work just the same as any other day.

Personal.

Mrs. J. D. Crafton, of New York, is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. E. Gilmore, on Royal street.

Mrs. Frances Barbour Ewing is at Rawley Springs for a part of the summer.

Mrs. Henry F. Robertson is visiting her brother, Mr. William F. Robertson, at Wilmington, N. C.

Mr. Boyce Pearson and Mr. Walker, of Columbia, S. C. f who have been visiting in this city, have returned to their homes greatly pleased with their experience during their stay in Alexandria.

Mr. J. E. Barron, who lives in Fairfax county, a short distance west of this city, was paralyzed at his home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jett and Miss Sadie Sullivan have gone to East Radford where they will spend the remainder of the month of July.

Mr. William Craven is quite sick at his home on south Lee street.

A telegram received at this office at 1 o'clock today states that Gen. Eppa Hunton, who was reported to be seriously ill at his home in Warrenton, was at that time seated on his porch as well as he has been for some time past.

Miss Emily Taylor will leave Monday to visit friends in Alexandria. Miss Hattie Gatewood, of Alexandria, is the guest of her grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Robt. Gatewood, in Boush street. Miss Chew, of Charlestown, W. Va., and Miss Washington, of Alexandria, are the guests of the Misses Tucker, in College Place.—[Norfolk Landmark.

Baseball.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W	L	Pct
Invincible	2	0	1000
Virginia	2	1	667
Old Dominion	1	1	500
Del Ray	1	1	500
Oriental	1	2	333
Potomac	1	3	250

A very interesting game of baseball was played Saturday evening on the old fair grounds between the Virginias and Old Dominions, the score resulting 4 to 3 in favor of the former. The battery for the Virginias was Gorman and Tenneson (Gorman striking out 13 men), and that for the Old Dominions was Ennis and Lucas (Ennis striking out 7 men).

The game this evening will be between the Potomacs and Invincibles.

Tomorrow evening the Virginias and Del Rays will cross bats. The batteries will be Gorman and Tenneson and Birrell and Benzett. Both games will be called at 5:30 o'clock.

The Burnett Case.

Messrs. Machen and Moncure, counsel for Richard C. Burnett, who was recently sentenced by the Corporation Court to pay a fine of $300 and to serve twelve months in jail for selling liquor without a license, will take an appeal to the Court of Appeals. The appeal will be taken on several exceptions noted during the trial, the most prominent of which will be the failure to set forth in the indictment whether the liquor was sold by retail or wholesale. Ten or twelve years ago a case similar to Burnett's went up from this city on a like exception and the judgment of the lower court was set aside. The lawf however, has been materially changed since that time.

The New Ferry.

The Washington and Norfolk Steamboat Company have moved the old ferry house from the foot of King street some distance north and a force of men are now at work filling up the site preparatory to paving the same. The work of constructing the new slip will be commenced in a short time. The convenience that will be afforded by the new ferry is apparent, as vehicles will, when it shall have been completed, pass off and on King street without being compelled to cross the flagstones on the north side of the thoroughfare as heretofore. The elimination of the present unsightly dock will be another desideratum.

Excursions.

The Young Men's Sodality Lyceum will give their annual excursion to Marshall Hall tomorrow. All arrangements have been made and a pleasant time is expected by all who intend to patronize the excursion. There will be an evening trip of the boat for the accommodation of those who desire to enjoy the ride down the river after sundown.

The Union Sunday Schools will give their annual outing on Friday, July 14, to River View. These excursions are among the most popular of the season and a pleasant time is promised to all who attended.

After Loafers.

Officer Ferguson appeared on north Fayette street this morning and notified a number of idle negroes congregated about cook shops and saloons in that neighborhood to disperse under pain of being apprehended under the vagrant act. It was stated in this column recently that a man appeared in Alexandria in quest of fifty men whom he guaranteed $1.50 a day and succeeded in obtaining three. It is said that he could have furnished employment for two hundred. There is at present but little excuse for idle persons of either race.

Overtaken by a Tugboat.

George Ammon and Humbert Fontaine, two white boys from Washington, went to the shipyard this morning and took possession of a sailboat belonging to Mr. Henry Simmons. The youths started up the river with the boat, but were soon overhauled by the owner, who started after them in a tugboat. They were brought back to this city and turned over to Officer Roberts, who locked them up.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Annie F. Charles, who died in Charlottesville last Saturday morning, will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from 1215 King street. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Fisher and Rev. Mr. Ewell. The pallbearers will be Messrs. Adam Martin, H. K. Field, J. R. N. Curtin, T. A. Groves, George W. Carter and D. W. Schofield.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

The July term of the Corporation Court opened today but not much business was transacted. The docket was called and cases set, most of them going over till the October term. The case of Augustus Davis, jr., vs. the M. A. Winter Co. was set for Wednesday next.

Greatly in Demand.

Nothing is more in demand than a medicine which meets modern requirements for a blood and system cleanser, such as Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are just what you need to cure stomach and liver troubles. Try them. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store, 25c., guaranteed.

U. S. Court.

The U. S. Court met in this city today for the summer term. There were present Judge Waddill, District Attorney Lewis, Assistant District Attorney Tally, Clerk Bowden, Assistant Clerk Garnett, Marshal Treat and the other court officers.

The grand jury was duly chosen an after Mr. F. S. Harper had been named as foreman were sent to their room. They have a large number of cases before them and are not expected to complete their work before tomorrow. Among the cases before the grand jury are the Manassas and other postoffice robberies. One hundred and fifty witnesses have been summoned before the grand jury and most of them are now in the city.

The Rixey libel case is set for hearing tomorrow.

The grand jury after agreeing upon several indictments adjourned this evening till tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, to which time court adjourned.

Stolen Articles Recovered.

Mrs. Fisher, living at No. 1433 Duke street, while gathering blackberries in the woods between Roberts' crossing and the Telegraph road today, found 24 razors and a pistol. She reported the find to the station house in this city, and Officer Young went to her house and took possession of the articles. It is believed that the razors and pistol were stolen from a C. & O. car last night. Officers will make a search of the woods for other articles believed to have been taken from the car.

For the Legislature.

Mr. J. H. Trimyer, formerly of this city, but now of the county, has announced his candidacy for the House of Delegates. Mr. Charles Bendheim has the matter of his candidacy for the position under advisement. He has been urged by a number of citizens to announce himself. Mr. Bendheim represented the city and county in the House several years ago.

Priests To Go Into Retreat.

The Catholic pastors of this section of Virginia announced yesterday to their congregations that they would all be absent this week. The priests go into their annual retreat today at Georgetown College, where accomodations for them have been provided. They will return to their churches next Saturday.

Modern Woodmen.

The Modern Woodmen of America will have a special meeting at their hall in this city tonight, when the degree team and officers of the Washington camp will be present to take part in the initiation of fourteen candidates. After the meeting refreshments will be served.

To Go Into Camp.

Company G (Alexandria Light Infantry), Seventieth Virginia Regiment, has been directed to go into camp with the regiment at Basic City, commencing August 15 and ending August 21.

Killed By Explosion.

Eight men were blown to pieces and two others were injured by the premature explosion of a big blast of rock powder on the Pennsylvania Railroad improvements near New Cumberland, Pa., at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The accident occurred directly across the Susquehanna river from the scene of the Pennsylvania Railroad wreck on May 11, in which twenty-three persons were killed and many others injured.

All the victim's of yesterday's disaster were employees of P. S. Kerbaugh & Co. (Inc.), contractors, who are building the double tracks for the Pennsylvania Railroad to connect with the Enola yards. The bodies of the men were terribly mangled, and particles of flesh and bones were scattered for a distance of 200 yards from the scene of the explosion.

One Italian escaped because a fellow-workman had playfully snatched his hat and ran with it. The owner ran after the man with the hat and had just got out of the range of the explosion when it occurred. An Italian water boy, twelve years old, who was on his way to the men with a bucket of water, was hurled fifty feet. Every stitch of clothing was torn from his body.

A leather belt containing $312 in paper money, supposed to belong to one of the men, was picked up near the scene of the explosion. Pieces of flesh and bone were found fastened in the telegraph wires over the railroad tracks.

There were no buildings in the immediate vicinity of the explosion, and there was no damage, except for the destruction of a few telegraph poles and a large tool shed in a near-by quarry, which was torn clear out and drawn fifteen feet toward the scene of the blast. The explosion shook the country for miles around and broke many windows in Harrisburg and towns across the river. Twelve hundred and fifty pounds of rock powder had been unloaded just before the explosion, but it was not disturbed.

Tragedy by a Maniac.

A murder and a suicide were committed in Jackson township near Wilkesbarre, Pa., yesterday, a few miles from Plymouth. The victims were James J. Farrell, a well-known resident of Plymouth, formerly assistant chief of police, and John Lee, formerly an engineer on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. Farrell, accompanied by his two children, went over the mountain to visit a cousin named McNally. Another cousin named John Lee, who had been an inmate of an insane asylum but was recently discharged as cured, suddenly took a fit of his old malady and without any warning rushed at the children with a razor, but they succeeded in getting away. Lee then found Farrell lying on the grass in the shade some distance away. He made a rush for him and cut his throat and turning around he took the same razor and cut his own throat. Both men died almost instantly.

Pastor Chases Beer Wagon.

Rev. Josiah Bawdon, pastor of the Providence Avenue Methodist Church, of Chester, Pa., horrified some of his parishioners in Eighteenth street, where he lives, Wednesday evening, by running after a beer wagon with a pitcher in his hand. The minister was sitting on his porch when the wagon came along. A pitcher sat on the door step. The pastor was wearing his house gown and slippers. Seeing the wagon go by, he seized the the pitcher and ran. After a chase of a block he overtook it. "A quart of vanilla, please," he said to the driver. Then he discovered his mistake. It was ice cream the minsster was after. Explanations followed, and when the good people of the church recovered from their shock they enjoyed a hearty laugh at the expense of the pastor.

A Grim Tragedy

is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, as Death claims, in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Cold which cured her, and to-day she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guranteed at 50c and $1.00 by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist. Try them today.
